

RHEEDEIA

Journal of Indian Association for Angiosperm Taxonomy

CONVOLVULACEAE SPECIAL ISSUE

Convolvulaceae, the morning glory family of flowering plants having widespread distribution in both tropical and temperate regions. The members of family Convolvulaceae supply food & medicine while several others are valuable ornamentals.

Rheedeia is an International Journal published by Indian Association for Angiosperm Taxonomy (IAAT). The journal is indexed by Scopus, Biological Abstracts of Web of Science, Kew Records of Taxonomy Literature and many more.

Rheedeia would like to bring out a special issue on Convolvulaceae. In this regard we invite manuscripts covering all aspects including new records (for country/continent), taxonomic revisions, nomenclatural notes, molecular phylogeny and biogeographical studies for publication in the special issue.

Contribute your recent findings in Convolvulaceae for this special issue.

Special issue editors:

Ana Rita Simões, Maria Teresa Buril,
Vinod Shimpale & Milind Sardesai

The following deadlines are anticipated

Manuscript submission: from now till 31 October 2024

Online publication: 31 December 2024

